As a result of rail congestion and track work causing enroute delays, Triple Crown is currently experiencing transit delays of 24 to 48 hours on shipments moving between the Midwest and the east coast and 12 to 24 hours on shipments moving between the Midwest and our St. Louis and Kansas City terminals. We are working closely with our rail providers in these lanes to eliminate or reduce any delays as quickly as possible.

For information regarding specific shipments, please contact your Triple Crown Customer Service Representative.
